

the future in PROSTAR

The program is expected to train more than 20,000 youths to become qualified facilitators/motivator to help other youths fight AIDS and improve the quality of life of the contemporary society in general, and the youths in particular.

About more than 2.7 million youths would be expected to directly benefit from PROSTAR.

The Ministry of Health provides solid support for PROSTAR to ensure its success by enhancing healthy lifestyle practises among the youths based on mental strength, spiritual resilience and self control.

Our aim is to create a young generation of upright personalities who will be untouched by social ills and the threat of AIDS, in line with our national vision of 2020.
